DAVIS ASSAILS LA FOLLETTE'S PROPOSAL

AIRMEN MAKE A SAFE JUMP FROM MAINE

Lieutenants Smith, Wade and Nelson Warmly Welcomed Upon Arrival At Massachusetts City After 125-Mile Hop From Mere Point, Maine.

(Associated Press.)

BOSTON AIRPORT, Sept. 6.—The American round-the-world fliers alighted safely here today at 2:09, 2:09 1-2 and 2:10 p. m., eastern daylight time, after a 125 mile jump from Mere Point, Me.

The planes alighted in the following order: Lieut. Lowell H. Smith's craft leading sixty seconds, Lieut. Leigh Wade and Erik Nelson in the Chicago, Boston II, and New Orleans, respectively.

As they taxied to their moorings at the buoys off the official barge, anti-aircraft guns fired by Battery A, Ninth regiment, coast artillery corps, boomed the national salute of twenty-one guns, usually accorded only to presidents of the United States and rulers of foreign countries.

Planes Made Fast.

Maj. Gen. Mason M. Patrick, chief of the United States air service, alighted a few minutes before the world fliers and was rushed to the official reception barge with Assistant Secretary of War Dwight F. Davis, there to greet the fliers. The planes taxied easily to their moorings and were made fast. A naval launch went out to meet them.

The shore along the five mile front was lined with thousands of spectators. Thousands hurled their hats in to the air and many waved American flags as one launch picked up the aviators and a second gathered up luggage that they had carried 26,000 miles.

Pass Over Portland.

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 6. — The world fliers passed by Portland, headed for Boston, at 12:20 daylight time. They did not pass over the city, but cut across Cape Elizabeth in a direct line for Old Orchard.

Leave Mere Point.

MERE POINT, Me., Sept. 6.—The round the world fliers hopped off today at 12.07 1-4 p. m., eastern daylight saving time, for Boston after remaining safely at anchor overnight here where they were forced down by fog late yesterday. The weather conditions were almost perfect for the 120 mile jump to Boston.

The start of the world fliers from here to Boston was delayed this morning by discovery that their gasoline supply was short of the amount that Lieutenant Smith felt necessary to supply the necessary margin of safety. An order for immediate delivery of seventy-five gallons was sent to Brunswick, seven miles away. Word was received that the nearest point from which gasoline could be obtained was Bath and that it would take an hour to bring it here.

The planes of General Patrick, commander of the air service, and ten others flew over the moorings of the fliers at 10:22 daylight time, heading out to sea after swinging over the islands.

General Patrick swung around in circles in greeting.

Birdmen Up Early.

The fliers were up at 7 o'clock and took breakfast with their overnight hosts.

CLAIM COLUMBUS BEER REAL STUFF

Federal Attorney Files Complaint Against Platte County Brewers.

OMAHA, Sept. 6.—Information on twenty-four counts alleging violation of the federal prohibition act by the Columbus Beverage company of Columbus, Neb., was filed in federal court here today by J. C. Kinsler, U. S. attorney. W. J. Walter and George Rambour are president and secretary of the company, respectively. A capias was issued for their arrest today.

According to Kinsler, the company has been making real beer instead of the non-alcholic variety. With the information filed today, which included charges of manufacture of liquor with more than one half of one per cent of alcohol without a permit, unlawful possession of liquor and maintenance of a nuisance, an application for a temporary injunction was filed.

According to evidence obtained by two prohibition agents, beer in various soft drink parlors in Columbus contained two and three per cent of alcohol.

PLAN DEFENSE DAY IN LINCOLN

Reserve Officers and Members Of Patriotic Organizations Meet at Chamber of Commerce to Organize Demonstration Here.

ZEHRUNG MADE HEAD OF EXECUTIVE BOARD

Mayor Chairman of Committee Of Eleven to Complete Plans; Major Palen of the Eighth Army Corps Headquarters Addresses Group.

Plans for a national defense day demonstration in Lincoln September 12, were started Saturday at a noon meeting of reserve officers and members of patriotic organizations at the chamber of commerce. This committee was named as an executive board to complete arrangements for the demonstration and also a parade prior to defense day: Chairman, Mayor F. C. Zehrung; John Maher, vice chairman; Marcus Poteet, Mrs. C. S. Paine, Chancellor Avery, Frank D. Eager, Miss Margaret Wharton, Earl Cline, Major Erickson, Col. H. W. Orr, James Kinsinger.

Major M. A. Phelen, from Eighth army corps area headquarters at Omaha, was the speaker at the meeting and said that the conception of national defense day as a military demonstration is wrong. He said the primary purpose of the plan is to test the efficiency of the nation in case of an emergency, since only through such tests can it be known what steps are necessary in times of stress.

Other speakers were Frank D. Eager, Mark Woods and John Maher. Mr. Eager declared that defense day was proposed as a step toward doing away with conditions such as existed during the Spanish-American war, where American soldiers were compelled in the Phillippine Islands to submit to enemy fire for 500 yards before being able to return the fire because of the obsolete pattern rifle they carried.

The executive board met Saturday afternoon to name sub-committees and further plans already made.

Martin ran down four flights of stairs in the Richards building and cut his hand severely on the plate glass swinging door.

The officers were watching for pickpockets downtown and the chase after Martin came when he aroused their suspicions. "I've been punished enough," Martin said Friday after his arm had been operated on.

He was released because of insufficient evidence, police said.

Members of the Lincoln Life Underwriters association were guests, and Walter Cluff of Kansas City spoke.

During the afternoon Mr. Cluff spoke to the wives of the agents explaining to them how they may be a help in furthering their husbands' interests. Cluff was followed by Oak Davis who also talked to the women.

After an address to the agents by Mr. Cluff, Oak Davis spoke, telling about the 1924-25 convention.

Saturday evening the agents will be the guests of the company at a dinner and dance at the chamber of commerce.

Coolidge Defends U. S. Courts

SCORES EFFORTS TO BREAK DOWN LAW GUARANTEES

Executive, In LaFayette Day Address At Baltimore, Says Question Before Country Today Is "Whether America Will Allow Itself To Be Degraded Into a Communistic and Socialistic State, Or Remain American"—Praises Great Frenchman.

(Associated Press.)

BALTIMORE, Sept. 6.—President Coolidge called upon the American people in a LaFayette day address here today to take a stand against "a deliberate and determined effort" which he said "is being made to break down the guarantees of our fundamental law" through a movement to limit the jurisdiction of our domestic courts.

Speaking at the unveiling of a statue of LaFayette, the president characterized the great Frenchman as a "true son of world freedom" and asserted that this occasion is dedicated to freedom."

"The question is," he declared, "whether America will allow itself to be degraded into communistic and socialistic state, or whether it will remain American. Those who want to continue to enjoy the high estate of American citizenship will resist all attempts to encroach upon their liberties by encroaching upon power of the courts."

While devoting his address primarily to a defense of the United States Supreme court, the president also drew a lesson from the French leader, who "joined us in fighting for the maintenance and extension of our institutions," and proposed a policy of service in foreign relations.

Wants Restoration.

He pleaded also for the abolishment of war hatreds and assistance in the "restoration of the German people now shorn of militarism."

Referring to the Supreme court, Mr. Coolidge said if its authority "should be broken down and its powers lodged with the congress every minority body that may be weak in resources or unpopular in the public estimation, also nearly every race and religious belief would find themselves practically without protection.

"The time for Americans to range themselves firmly, squarely and uncompromisingly behind American ideals is now," he asserted. "The great body of our people have an abiding faith in their own country. The time has come when they should supplement that faith with action. In this contest there is but one place for a real American to stand."

The president mentioned no names in connection with the attack he described against the Supreme court. He characterized it as an assault upon the constitution "with its purpose the confiscation of property and the destruction of liberty."

An Indirect Peril.

"Very little danger exists of an open and avowed assault upon the principle of individual freedom," he said. "It is more likely to be in peril

OBTAIN LOOT WORTH $2,500

Burglars Break Into College Book Store Friday Night and Make Away With Fountain Pens, Rings and Pencils.

Loot valued at about $2,500 was taken from the College Book Store, 1135 R street, by burglars Friday night. The stolen merchandise consisted of forty-five dozen fountain pens, five dozen gold seal rings and two dozen silver and gold pencils, according to E. H. Long, the proprietor. His loss is fully covered by insurance.

Entrance was gained through a cinder chute on the west side of the building. Tracks left in a pile of ashes in the basement were carefully smoothed over. After taking the pens and pencils the burglar left by the back door. Officers investigating found tracks there Saturday morning.

The pens were taken from the trays in the show cases in each case one pen being left in the case. A new shipment which had just arrived was missed.

All of the loot could easily have been placed in a small suit case, Long said.

"I believe this is the work of an organized gang with a central clearing house," declared Long, "because every fall some book store near a large school is burglarized. Last year it was at Lawrence, Kas., the year before at Columbia, Mo., and here this year.

"I did not leave the store until shortly before 11 o'clock, and the loss was discovered about 7 a. m. today when Ralph Connell and Andrew Larsen came to work.

"It is fortunate for the burglar that he did not come Saturday night, for we plan to fumigate with a very deadly gas in order to kill the mice and rats."

Sixty cents in nickles was taken from the cash register.

Police are communicating with other towns and it is believed that if an attempt is made to dispose of the loot the bugler may be captured. It is believed the work was done by one man.

STATE FAIR IS A BIG SUCCESS

Total Attendance For Week 265,594, Second Only to That of 1920; Financial Success Of Exposition Assured, Says Danielson.

BIGGEST FRIDAY CROWD IN HISTORY

Increase On Closing Day Of 5,000 Over Last Year; Officers Comment Favorably On Attitude Of People —Encountered Little Trouble.

FAIR ATTENDANCE.

	1923	1924
Sunday	16,546	17,419
Monday	54,246	48,284
Tuesday	34,915	37,467
Wednesday	60,070	64,076
Thursday	43,221	56,187
Friday	37,336	42,161
Total	247,234	265,594

With another big crowd on closing day, the Nebraska state fair ended at 4 p. m. Friday with a record for total attendance that is second only to the record crowd of 1920. This year's attendance reached 265,594.

A member of the board stated Saturday morning that the profit would probably be from $30,000 to $35,000, about double that of last year. Final figures have not yet been made.

The attendance on closing day, Friday, was 42,161, an increase of about 5,000 over the same day last year and the biggest Friday crowd in the history of the fair.

"This has been one of our most successful fairs," E. R. Danielson, secretary of the fair board, declared. "One of the features has been the general attitude of the crowd. The people have been happy and easily pleased. They weren't at all irritable; all they asked was to be let alone to enjoy themselves. The fair will also be a big success so far as the attendance and financial returns are concerned."

George Jackson, president of the fair board, also expressed his pleasure at the way the big exhibition went off. "Yes, it certainly seems to have been a success," he said. He also commented on the good nature of the crowd.

Fewer complaints have been received this year and less trouble has been reported than at any fair in the past, officials said. There have been no disturbances on the grounds and the complaints that have arisen have been handled almost entirely by the department superintendents instead of by the board of managers.

PLAN TO FINANCE FALLS CITY HOTEL

Modern Fire Proof Building Now In Course Of Construction.

Application for authority to issue $125,000 of common stock and $75,000 of bonds in the financing of Falls City's new modern four-story hotel was made to the state bureau of securities Saturday by A. J. Weaver as president of the Falls City Hotel Realty Co., an organization of citizens which financed the project with home capital.

"We have already paid out $82,637 to the architect, the contractor, and others for work done upon the structure thus far," said Mr. Weaver. "The reinforced concrete framework for the building is completed, and it is now ready to be enclosed. The cost when completed will be about $200,000. All the money going into it has been subscribed by Falls City people, and the stock will be issued to them in exchange for the money they have furnished. The bonds will be a first mortage on the hotel property and equipment, representing other money that is to be put into it.

"There will be 50 guest rooms in the hotel. The office and six mercantile rooms, available for rental, will be on the ground floor. The building is modern in all respects and fire proof as well. We Falls City people take a good deal of pride in such an addition to our business section."

The new Richardson county court house, costing $230,000, has also reached about the same stage of construction as the hotel. Both will be finished in the spring or early summer next year. The court house, like the hotel, will be fireproof. It is being built with the proceeds of a 5-mill special levy made during a period of five years.

Mr. Weaver is a member of the board of managers for the Nebraska state fair, and has been spending the past week here helping to make it the success that it was. He and Mrs. Weaver drove home to Falls City on Saturday afternoon.

DENIES CHARGE OF DESPOTIC POWER IN U. S.

Democratic Nominee Attacks Position of Independent Candidate Who Would Make Legislative Bodies All-Powerful---Standard Bearer In Omaha For First Nebraska Address.

(Associated Press.)

OMAHA, Sept. 6.—John W. Davis came here today from Chicago to argue his cause to the people west of the Mississippi. His first address, in which he will deal with the agricultural problem, will be delivered here tonight at the auditorium in the presence of his running mate, Governor Charles W. Bryan, and other party leaders.

In a series of over night addresses on his trip through Illinois and Iowa, Mr. Davis made a new declaration for religious freedom and vigorously assailed the La Follette proposal that congress and the state legislatures be given the power through a constitutional amendment to override supreme court decisions on legislative enactments.

Stresses Religious Freedom

Mr. Davis, in speaking to a large crowd at Dubuque, Ia., was particularly emphatic with regard to the safeguarding of the right of religious freedom, and his declaration was vigorously applauded. Declaring that this right perhaps was "more sacred than anything else," he told his audience that it was not to be disturbed or threatened or taken away "by any man, or set of men of any government whatever."

"I know that in this country," he continued, "there has been put forward the proposition that power shall be taken away from the courts of the United States and that the congress or the state legislatures shall have the right to pass a law, no matter what that law may be, no matter what right it invades, no matter if it should deny you the exercise of your religious worship, that the courts shall be utterly powerless to say that law shall not operate, and if congress or the legislature chose to pass it, or pass it again after the courts had denounced it, that you would be utterly without remedy.

"I deny that doctrine, I deny that there is any such thing as despotic power in these United States, in presidents, or governors, or courts, or congresses, or legislatures. There must be in this country some power to which the American citizen can turn when the sacred rights given him are invaded."

Meets Governor Bryan

Upon his arrival here early today, Mr. Davis and his party were met by a number of democratic leaders, including former Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock, and escorted to a hotel where the democratic nominee conferred with a number of party chieftains and later met Governor Bryan, who came from Lincoln.

Governor Bryan, Mr. Davis' running mate, accompanied by T. S. Allen, chairman of the democratic state committee, and C. A. Lord, chairman of the Bryan notification arrangements committee, arrived in Omaha at 10.15. Given the same escort as that for Mr. Davis, the Bryan party was driven to the presidential nominee's hotel, where the two candidates met and exchanged greetings before leaving for a short tour of the stockyards of South Omaha.

OMAHA, Sept. 6.—John W. Davis, democratic vice presidential nominee, arrived here this morning prepared to launch his campaign into the great middlewest.

The trip to Omaha was made over the Illinois Central railroad, leaving Chicago at 6 p. m. The Davis train was run as a special section of the "Hawkeye Limited" and came through on schedule time.

Mr. Davis will appear tonight on a platform which has supported many political notables during the past few years, and in a few presidential campaigns, among them Woodrow Wilson, Theodore Roosevelt, Charles E. Hughes, James M. Cox, Warren G. Harding, William Jennings Bryan and others.

CECAN IS RUN OVER BY AUTO

Suffers Serious Injuries When He Is Dragged 10 Feet By Machine.

Julius Cecan, 2145 O street, was seriously hurt about the chest and arms Saturday forenoon when an automobile which he was cranking near Thirteenth and O streets, started up and ran over him, dragging him about ten feet.

Cecan was taken to Dr. T. F. McCarthy's office where he was given medical attention, and later removed to St. Elizabeth's hospital. It is possible he may have received several fractured ribs and possible internal injuries, Dr. McCarthy stated. He was conscious following the accident.

The automobile had apparently been left in gear and when cranked by Cecan ran over him, dragging him a distance, and crashed into a milk truck farther down the street. The accident occurred on North Thirteenth street, between O and P streets.

Cecan recently moved to Lincoln from Beatrice, and expects to enter business here, it is understood.

Commission Hears Railroad Dispute Tuesday Morning

Arguments will be heard before the state railway commission next Tuesday morning on the question of its jurisdiction to hear and decide a complaint filed by J. P. Moedler of Omaha on behalf of the railroad brotherhoods against the Burlington railroad, asking that the Nebraska law be enforced by adding another brakeman on freight trains between Wymore and Red Cloud where the daily run exceeds 100 miles.

The Burlington contends that jurisdiction of all such matters has been transferred to the United States labor board, by act of congress; that the run referred to is interstate because the line dips into Kansas for a few miles, although both terminals are in Nebraska, and that most of the traffic over it is interstate and not subject to state regulation.

The Nebraska statute on which the brotherhoods rely was enacted a good many years ago, upon their initiative. It provides that ordinary freight crews shall include an engineer, fireman, conductor and two brakemen, and that where the run exceeds 100 miles, if passengers are carried and local switching is done, there shall be three brakemen. The distance between Wymore and Red Cloud is 108 miles.

ASKS $25,000 FOR HUSBAND'S DEATH

Widow of Benner Schertzberg, Killed By Shock, Files Claim Against City.

Mrs. Mattie Schertzberg, administratrix of the estate of Benner Schertzberg, killed by an electric shock while working at Twenty-second and E streets, August 8, Saturday filed a claim against the city for $25,000, alleging that the death of Schertzberg was caused by the negligence of city authorities in constructing a primary transmission line close to the lines of the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company for which Schertzberg was working at the time of his death.

Water and Light Commissioner William Schroeder said Saturday that an investigation immediately following the death of Schertzberg, by the city attorney's office and by an employe of the lighting department, showed that the city was in no way liable for the accident.

Take to Water Near Brunswick, Me., When Heavy Fog Confronts Them.

Plan to Hop Off Early Saturday Morning—Reception Plans Rearranged.

(Associated Press)

BOSTON Sept 6—Fog and thick weather that rolled up along the Maine coast brought about an unexpected landing by the American world girdling army aviators at Mere Point near Brunswick Me Friday while a crowd of nearly 40 000 persons awaited them at the Boston airport Reaching the mainland of the United States after an absence of nearly five months in which they completed the virtual circumnavigation of the world by air the fliers received by telephone the congratulations of high army officials who had gathered here to meet them

After another telephone conversation later with Lieut Lowell H Smith commander of the flight Maj Gen Mason M Patrick chief of the air service said that it was planned for the fliers to hop off from Mere Point for Boston between 8 and 8 30 o clock daylight saving time Saturday morning He added that they probably would leave Boston at [illegible] o clock Sunday afternoon for Mitchell field New York and that he would accompany them on that leg of the flight and also from Mitchell field to Washington

Forced Back By Fog.

Forced by fog to turn back with his squadron of eleven planes with which he hoped to escort the aviators to Boston Major General Patrick found a telephone call from Lieut Lowell H Smith leader of the world flight awaiting him on his return here Smith's first greeting to his chief was

Sorry we had to disappoint you sir but the fog was too thick for us to take a chance with these men and our ship

General Patrick replied

Mighty glad indeed to have you so near home I know you did the best you could to get through today We went up to meet you and realize what the conditions were '

Everything is O K for a getaway tomorrow Smith replied

Will look for you tomorrow then " replied General Patrick You boys have done splendidly

Taking the telephone Assistant Secretary of War Dwight Davis who had accompanied General Patrick in another plane and who had just alighted said

Welcomed By Davis

'Welcome to our country Sorry you had to come down

To which Lieutenant Smith replied

We did our best air to come through Look for us tomorrow

A greeting to old comrades came from Lieut St Clair Street aide to General Patrick who commanded the Alaskan flight in addition to plotting the main route for the world tour

Hello Smith he said You fellows have done a fine job Hope you come down all right See you to morrow

The aviators who alighted on the waters of Casco bay Maine without mishap last night were planning to proceed here as early as possible Saturday where a re arranged program of ceremonies was to be carried out Then according to arrangements by Major General Patrick the planes will be overhauled the pontoons removed and landing gears substituted

Land Safely

PORTLAND Me Sept 6—Lieut Lowell H Smith commander of the army world flight and his two companions Lieut Erik H Nelson and Lieut Leigh Wade were forced down by fog in Casco bay Friday in their flight from Pictou N S Their planes were not damaged and the flight to Boston thus interrupted was to be completed Saturday if the weather is favorable

They came ashore at Mere Point near Brunswick and arranged to spend the night at Summer Cottages Lieutenant Smith said that he planned to get under way again between 9 and 10 o clock Saturday morning daylight time

The flight started at Pictou Friday morning with good weather but as the planes came down from the Bay of Fundy and headed along the Maine coast the fog began to bother them They were forced to fly low most of the way at times not more than 150 feet above the water

Over the telephone last night Lieutenant Smith gave to the Associated Press a brief account of the experiences of the fliers

We ran into fog most of the way down the coast he said When we reached Casco bay it was dense but we hoped we could make our way along a little farther in the thought that we might strike clear weather It could not be done and we looked around for a landing place

After circling about the bay for a while we discovered a good place near Mere Point We made an easy landing at 5 10 p m daylight time and anchored so near here that we had no difficulty in getting on dry land our first actual touch with United States soil since Seattle

We are all very glad to be here We have been working a long time to get here It sems good to be back with our people again

Prince Plays Game of Polo During a Rain

(Associated Press)

SYOSSET N Y Sept 6—Under cloudy skies and in a chilly wind the Prince of Wales yesterday played his fifth polo game in six days giving six of his ponies a thorough workout Despite the cool air which caused the small group of spectators assembled on the W R Grace field to put on overcoats horses and men were dripping with perspiration after the first seven and a half minutes of play

A light rain fell during the last two periods and the prince returned from the field in a downpour

There were no crowds this time to trouble the royal visitor and as he swung down from a pony took his spurs and stood in slight brown [illegible] smoking a cigaret between chukkers only his attendants and Major Metcalfe his equerry stood near him

The inspector glanced reprovingly at the photographer and contented himself with the remark Youre imposing on his generosity

WANTS LEAGUE TO CALL CONFERENCE

Herriot Joins Britain: Says Disarmament Meeting Must Be in Europe.

Pledges France to Compulsory Arbitration At Session Of Assembly.

(Associated Press)

GENEVA Sept 6 Great events which in League of Nations circles [illegible] affect the future of the whole world including the United States occurred at Friday's session of the assembly of the League

France joined Great Britain in pledging support for the principle of compulsory arbitration and through her premier M Herriot in removing the doubts of those who feared that France would hesitate to weaken her force as a great continental military power

M Herriot announced unequivocally that France favors an international conference on disarmament In a calm masterly oration like that Premier Macdonald of Great Britain delivered before the assembly on Thursday M Herriot made the men and women present sit in rigid attention

The premier told the assembly that henceforth that nation which refused to submit disputes to arbitration would be stigmatized as the aggressor nation

Last night the one topic for discussion among delegates generally was what effect the reaction in the last two days in the assembly would have on the United States Next to definite commitments to the policy of arbitration one thing stands out clearly—that is that all Europe led by Great Britain and France now has proclaimed that it is through the League of Nations and no other body that the peace of the world must be solidified

France like Great Britain has made it clear that the next disarmament conference must be convoked by the League of Nations because it is considered the only body fitted and properly equipped to carry through such a conference

If you were to succeed outside the league declared M Herriott Friday in a speech in creating any body to carry on this conference would you not have conflict between two bodies each fighting the other in the name of peace?

It is apparent Mr Shaver said that the exigencies of partisan politics have pressed Secretary Wallace to reverse and stultify himself in the statement he issued on September 4 charging the last democratic administration with responsibility for the deflation of agricultural problems

AN EAR TO THE GROUND.

Cautious Cal still has his ear to the ground

It is reported on reliable authority that he is watching the air currents in Maine

Ten days have elapsed since John W Davis the democratic candidate for president invited Mr Coolidge and Mr Dawes to make known their views in the Klan issue in order that it might be eliminated from the campaign Over a week has passed since General Dawes embarrassed the republican leaders with his juggling statement with respect to the Hooded Order at Augusta Maine Still Mr Coolidge maintains that golden silence

The voters of Maine will go to the polls next week

If the republican candidate for governor running with the support of the Ku Klux Klan is victorious it is to be expected that Mr Coolidge will continue to ignore the challenge of his democratic opponent But if the republican candidate should be defeated the president will still be in a position to declare himself Mr Coolidge and his advisors figure that by playing the waiting game they have everything to win and nothing to lose

Their reasoning may be correct

It is possible that Mr Coolidge has not suffered losses because of his non committal attitude Reports from eastern states where the Klan issue is most acute do not support that view In Maine New Jersey Connecticut New York and Rhode Island where all other issues have been submerged by the fierce sentiment of Klan and anti Klan groups Mr Coolidge s stock is reported to have receded Where a victory seemed certain even the republican managers now see a fight looming Whether an eleventh hour declaration will retrieve his fallen fortunes is a matter of debate This much is certain President Coolidge cannot continue to ignore the challenge issued by Mr Davis The indefinite meaningless plank in his party s platform does not meet the issue In questions where the emotions play a smaller part he might succeed But with sentiment so thoroughly aroused and feeling so sharply defined as it is in those states where the Klan possesses strength silence will not do

It is significant that Mr Coolidge is handling the Klan problem in characteristic fashion He has not met the Klan issue in a bold and daring fashion It is not in him to act quickly in an emergency He is after all has been said a timid vacillating cautious leader keeping his eyes constantly on political expediency

His first great test came in the Teapot Dome investigation

For days Mr Coolidge dawdled along—until congress grew insistent in its demands that punishment be meted out to those who through incompetence or with intent betrayed their trust Denby hit back at his critics The president said no man would be sacrificed to popular clamor Yet Mr Denby resigned three days later and the president accepted his resignation Then Daugherty focused attention Again the president said he would not be swayed by popular passions A few days later the attorney general was forced to resign when Mr Coolidge found his further retention was seriously jeopardizing his administration

What happened in the few short days which intervened between the president s avowed determination to stand by his cabinet officials and the time when they were forced to submit their resignations? Cautious Cal s ear had been to the ground He heard the rumbling of the storm Under the circumstances it is difficult to conceive that Mr Coolidge was moved to action by principle Mr Denby s shortcomings were no worse when his resignation was forthcoming than they were when the congressional demand was made for it Mr Daugherty s sins were no greater when he acceded to the president s request for his retirement than the day congress demanded his resignation The question of public morals and principle which each case presented did not enter it It was political expediency

Mr Coolidge is handling the Klan issue as he has handled all other matters

Possibly an earthquake in Maine will force him to break his silence

LINCOLN S UNREGISTERED VOTERS

On August 28, there were 5,931 voters in Lincoln who had taken the precaution to register so that they might cast a ballot at the November election.

City Clerk Theo Berg estimates there are 30 000 men and women who are eligible to vote in Lincoln At the last election there were 2 000 registered voters in this city It would appear therefore that only a fourth to a sixth of the legal voters of this city had taken the precaution to register

Of course there will be thousands register before the final day Most of us wait until the last minute to register But the situation is somewhat different than it has been heretofoe Anyone who would vote and who has not registered since last May must register In other words there must be a complete new registration Suppose most of us wait on the other fellow expecting him to register first while we take our time In the closing days it is possible we will be compelled to wait in line for a considerable time and consequently waste on hour or two in order to complete the formalities Unless registration is more spirited than it has been there will be streams of people endeavoring to reach the city clerk s office the last hour

If you have not registered you will save yourself time and inconvenience by registering now before the rush starts

THE WHEAT ACREAGE

In August the United States department of agriculture sounded a warning to the American farmer Much higher prices and an unusually abundant harvest provided him with an excuse to commit another mistake In spite of the need for a greater diversity of crops it seemed probable that the wheat acreage in this country would be considerably increased

The government department said forty millions of acres of wheat were raised in 1924 In 1925 the department announced forty three millions of acres of wheat would be planted

Presumably these figures were accurate until General Charles G Dawes the republican candidate for vice president delivered an agricultural address in Lincoln What Mr Dawes did to those figures notwithstanding the fact that the department of agriculture exercises the greatest care in their compilations was a caution He tossed them over the transom

In his discussion of overproduction and its relation to agriculture this paragraph will be found in the Dawes address

> Foremost among the causes responsible for the unsatisfactory condition of agriculture in this country is unregulated production Until production is brought more nearly into line with consumptive demand there can be no permanent betterment in the agriculture situation Under the stimulus of war time demand our wheat acreage increased from forty seven million acres which was the average for the period from 1909 to 1913 to nearly seventy-six million acres in 1919 since which time there has been a substantial decline but the 1923 acreage although 9 per cent below the maximum still shows an increase of six million four hundred thousand acres or 13½ per cent over the pre war period from 1909 to 1913

Possibly Mr Dawes quotes the correct figures

There is a wide discrepancy between the statistics prepared by the department of agriculture and those quoted by the republican candidate for vice president If Mr Dawes is correct and the department is wrong then there is a great opportunity to give a visual demonstration of common sense in reorganizing that particular department But if the department is correct and Mr Dawes is wrong then it would seem that another economist has fallen down But what s the matter of a few million acres of wheat in a political campaign?

THE TRAFFIC OFFICER

Before another State Fair rolls around Lincoln will probably have an entirely new system of controlling traffic in the downtown sections

For the time being she may congratulate herself that the fair was unmarred by automobile accidents and the congestion resulting when thousands of Nebraskans drove their cars to the big exposition was attended with a minimum number of smashups and collisions

The men who were especially assigned to handle traffic did unusually well under the circumstances They were for the most part inexperienced in the work That the long strings of automobiles moved as rapidly and with so few collisions is remarkable

Lincoln should abandon the plan of using traffic officers as soon as possible Most of the larger cities of the middle west are using automobile signal devices That should be the next step taken by the public safety department

After looking over the Nebraska agricultural display this week we can t help thinking that fair is a rather mild name for it

Cleaner Barbering

Under the modern sanitary regulations new in vogue in many cities getting a shave is almost as elaborate a process as getting an operation for appendicitis The good old days are passing when Bill the barber mopped off the whiskers from the customer s face and Joe the porter mopped em off the floor quite regardless of microbes

Just as the roller towel used to be (and still is in some parts of the country) a sort of a universal transfer point for numerous infections so is the barber shop when run on the old fashioned free and easy plan It s a good thing for the public and a good thing for the barber trade that devices for sterilizing instruments are coming into constantly wider use

When a man goes into a shop for a shave he doesn t want to come out with a rash When a lady goes in for a bob she doesn t want to be graduated from the chair with a case of somebody else s pediculosis capitis

Whether or not the local board of health is on the job the progressive barber believes in making his shop and his work as sanitary as possible To help you differentiate between clean barbers and careless ones here are a few points to observe

1 Does the barber wash his hands thoroughly with soap and warm water before attending you

2 Does he wear a white coat with long sleeves

3 Does he have and use facilities for sterilizing all his instruments

4 Does he use individual towels for each customer

5 Does he provide a clean towel or a clean paper headrest

6 Has he done away with all community weapons such as neck dusters powder puff and sponges?

7 Is the shop so conducted in all particulars that the last customer s microbes are kept from contact with

Patronize the sanitary barber shop! He may charge a little extra for his services (although usually his prices are no higher) but it s far cheaper to patronize a barber who prevents diseases than to visit a doctor who cures them

Questions And Answers

Your questions on health topics will be answered by Dr Dorothy Bocker if you address her in care of this newspaper

H G W—Is an odor from plumbing harmful? I live in an old house and while I have had the plumber examine all the pipes he cannot find anything wrong Yet the odor persists

ANSWER—Old fashioned plumbing was so constructed that unpleasant odors sometimes came from it If there is no leakage as is indicated by your plumber s examination there is no danger

Seeing With X-Ray Eyes

BY GARRETT P SERVISS

Famous Astronomer and Writer on Scientific Topics of Popular Interest

One of the latest forms of mystification that has been pushed to the front is the X Ray Eye The performer in this case professes to be able to see objects and to read print or writing through solid opaque bodies or screens

Without claiming the intervention of disembodied spirits the practioners of this art or the exploiters of them affirm that their eyes have a supernormal penetrating power and are able to see through considerable thicknesses of metal or of solid wood

In some cases at least they claim that they must have a fairly bright daylight in order to succeed This is urged as proof that the agency that enables them to read through solids is a radiation akin to ordinary light but capable like the X ray of penetrating opaque bodies

Since the precise functions of the complicated structures that make up the retina of the eye and its connections with the optic nerve have not yet been entirely disclosed to science it is easy to persuade many persons of the possibility that certain eyes may have the power to utilize radiations which in ordinary eyes produce no visual effect whatever and are not even perceived So ignorance like darkness is full of phantasms invented by the imagination

There is of course no question about the variability of the sensitiveness of the eye Even the eyes of the same person at times vary remarkably in this respect And there is reason to believe that some animals such as cats and owls can see quite clearly in what to human eyes seems impenetrable obscurity But there is no evidence that any animal whatever can use for visual purposes any form of radiation other than that which produces light for us

Other of their senses besides that of sight seem to have a degree of sensibility exceeding anything known in human experience yet their most remarkable performances can all be explained without invoking the agency of any kind of physical sense not possessed by man Some animals may have unknown senses responding reregularly to vibrations that pass us as unnoticed as the radio waves when not caught by a receiving instrument—but it is purely assumption to affirm that they actually do possess such senses

In the case of X ray eyes or X Ray vision——which of course are merely picturesque phrases— it is to be noticed that some at least of the persons who pretend to read through metal screens describe their sensations not so much as seeing as perceiving mentally

This puts them in the class of clairvoyants and allies them with telepathy They get an impression of what is written and since the impression relates to things naturally belonging to the realm of vision what they see mentally is referred to the physical eye

Last year while in France I came upon a reported case of supernormal seeing in which the seer described in considerable detail the gradual development in his consciousness of the perception of the concealed objects that he was supposed to see through intervening obstacles or in circumstances where ordinary vision could be of no avail

I believe that in all these cases there will be found the same equivocal character in the visions that marks clairvoyant and telepathic performances in general Self deception is probably much more common in such things than the public imagines And self deception helps to spread the illusion by going hand in hand with manifest honesty

If only some trained thinker and observer could be seized with a little temporary supernormalcy we might get an analysis that would be worth a hundred expert investigations'

EUROPE FEVERISH IN MERRY-MAKING

Lincoln Attorney Says People Spend For Fear Of Losing Altogether.

Merry making is at a fever rush in Europe says former United States Senator E J Burkett who returned Friday from a two months tour of England and the continent He was accompanied by his wife and daughter Lenore

People spend money as fas as they can lay hands on it he observed because they fear that its value might drop so far in a day that they would lose heavily Rich men have no desire to acquire more taxable property—they watch the races and spin roulette whels Even the poor who can hardly find food to eat must have their vacations and take their trips on the Seine

Mr Burkett went to London to attend the meeting of the Bar association where he was royally entertained with the rest of the 3 500 American lawyers who were there Arriving a week before time he and his family toured through Scotland They afterwards took an extended trip through most of the continental countries The Ruhr valley was included

The war territory is rapidly recovering fro mits devestation he found He visited the cemetery at Belleau woods and took many pictures of the region That burying ground was laid out by R C Van Kirk a Lincoln attorney in Mr Burkett s office who headed a group of marines after the battle there and interred the first forty bodies of the thousands that now rest in is precincs

Matthew Strong marries his stenographer Julie Benton and when he brings her home after the honeymoon his daughter Claudia does everything in her power to make things uncomfortable for her stepmother It isn t long before Matthew begins to feel that he has made a mistake and this feeling is heightened by the knowledge that he might have married Margaret Davenport a woman in his own class Bradford Pierce a friend of Mathew s is kind to Julie and under his influence he begins the business of making himself [illegible] Claudia wilfully [illegible] thing else into the friendship and Bradford much to his amazement discovers that he is beginning to care for Julie In the meantime Claudia [illegible] a man about whom she knows very litle She agrees to go alone to his studio [illegible]

CHAPTER XXXIII

The Expected Happens

Claudia found her usual poise shaken by her nearness to Fiske Then too there was the knowledge that she was doing something highly unconventional that she was here alone with him and under the too steady regard of his eyes She finally rose to her feet put her cup down and began to wander about the room

She made a pretense of examining things here and there picking up a piece of bric a brac or bending to scrutinize a picture Finally she stopped before a large hand carved frame which held a photograph of a rather worldly handsome woman

She was gazing at it when Fiske crossed the room to her and because she was momentarily confused she turned to him with a question

Who is that

His eyes followed her glance and she fancied that a look of embarrassment crossed his face Afterward she felt that she might have been mistaken for the look was gone in a moment At any rate he did not answer and instead of speaking swept her suddenly into his arms

Claudia was conscious of a breathless dizzy sensation a sudden swooping of her heart as though from fear followed by a rapturous surge of emotion Her heart hammered against her breast she found herself clinging to him and then her eyes closed as his lips touched hers She did not know how long they clung together

A wave of sick revulsion swept over her She was conscious suddenly of staring at him with wide eyes staring at him as though he were a stranger and wondering dully how she could want to be touched by him one moment and be sick with fear and distaste the next

Claudia His voice was low caressing He made a move to take her once more into his arm but she drew back

What is it dear he went on softly You are for me more than you realize You must care for me Why there was response in every [illegible]

The hot shamefully rushed into her face I dont know she faltered I must think She tried to summon back her self control to regain her poise If only she could laugh could feel the old self confidence that had always been hers but somehow she couldn t, not while he stood there looking at her that way not while she knew that he had only to touch her again to make her respond as she had

I must go she began desperately Please don t try to stop me and I don t want you to come with me I want to be alone

But Claudia I can t let you go like this Come over here and sit down We must talk things over Perhaps I shouldnt have done what I did but somehow I couldnt help it Ever since that night long ago I have thought about you wanted to be alone with you You re not angry with me are you sweetheart"

No she said very slowly I m not angry I think I must have wanted you to do it but I want to go now I must

She was slipping into her coat now and seizing her gloves and purse was moving toward the door

Please don t come with me I can pick up a taxi right outside the entrance and I want to be alone

Without even a goodbye she opened the door and closed it quickly behind her The next moment she was running downstairs as though he were pursuing her all the way

FORTUNE STOLEN FROM AUTOMOBILE

Bonds Worth $3.000,000 Disappear From Car On Main Street at Salt Lake City.

(Associated Press)

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Sept 6—Otto Meek, reputed wealthy ranch owner of Baker, Nev., reported to the police that negotiable securities which he said had a face value of more than $3,000,000 had been stolen from his automobile while it was parked on Main Street here Friday afternoon.

Meek said the securities belonged to the Mammoth Land & Power Co. of Baker, Nev., with which company he is connected. He refused to state the present market value of the securities but said he was enroute to New York to turn them over to brokers.

He said he left the securities in a suit case in the front seat of his automobile and when he returned in about an hour the bag was gone.

Meek was unable to shed any light on the theft saying he was traveling alone and knew of no one who was aware of the contents of the suit case.

Locatelli Abandons Plane Trip to Pole

NEW YORK, Sept — (A. P.) — Lieut. Antonio Locatelli yesterday announced he had called off his proposed flight to the North pole with Capt. Roald Amundsen, the Norwegian explorer. His reason for making this decision, he said, was that he had learned from his recent trip ending in the Arctic waters near Greenland that there is a better chance of reaching the pole by dirigible than by airplane.

Lieutenant Locatelli expects to remain here about two weeks to visit aviation stations.

WEAK, RUN DOWN AFTER SICKNESS

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Mrs. Dube Well and Strong

E. Hartford, Conn.—"After a severe sickness I was so weak that I could not do my housework, so my mother told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The first bottle helped me so much that I took six more bottles and felt fine. I have just given birth to a nice baby girl and am feeling strong and well. So different from the way I felt before. I am taking the Vegetable Compound right along while nursing. The baby seems to be in good health, and my friends say they see a big change for the better in me."—Mrs. EUGENE DUBE, 59 Woodbridge St., E. Hartford, Connecticut.

The Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine to bring back health and strength. Many mothers have found this true, as did Mrs. Dube. There are women everywhere who know by experience the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW.

NEW YORK Sept 6—(A P)—Dun's today said

There is no rapid growth of domestic business but each week something is added to the gains recently made Nearly two months of gradual and irregular recovery have followed the setback that began early in the year which resulted in a sharp restriction of operations and the improvement now in progress was conceivably become more marked and general with passing of the summer Although political uncertainties still act as a check in different quarters basic conditions are favorable having been strengthened by the increased buying power in agricultural sections and an extension of the trade revival is expected

Statistical records for August afford a measurement of the betterment that has already occurred pig iron output rising 8 per cent after four consecutive months of declines the moderate advance in commodity prices being reflected in Dun's compilation and the number of commercial failures having reached the lowest point of the year

GRAIN MARKET.

CHICAGO Ill Sept 6

The grain market was irregular at the close today wheat sagging off during the short session and corn and oats continuing fairly strong

Wheat finished ¾ to ⅞c off corn closed ¼ to ⅝c up oats closed ¼ to ⅜c up

Reports of damaging frosts in the corn belt reached the pit early and these served to hold that grain against the depressing effect of wheat

There was reported to be extensive buying of wheat for foreign interests but this was more than offset by heavy selling and the market remained sluggish throughout the day's trading

Grains were lower at the opening today

WHEAT—Wheat started ⅛ to ⅜c lower with scattered selling and poor support Trade was moderate

CORN—Corn started ⅛c higher to ⅛c lower Trade was small and uncertain

OATS—Oats started unchanged to ⅛c higher but eased off on [illegible] selling

indirectly perhaps with the avowed intention of protecting [illegible] or enlarging it

In his discussion of foreign affairs Mr Coolidge said to be independent to my mind does not mean to be isolated There is no real independence save only as we secure it through the law of service * * *

Referring to the European situation the president declared If we want France and the other allies paid we can best work toward that end by assisting in the restoration of the German people now shorn of militarism, to their full place in the family of peaceful mankind"

Speaking again of the Supreme court as well as of the entire system of independent judiciary Mr Coolidge said its establishment through the constitution was one of the great contributions which America made to the science of government

That tribunal he continued in speaking specifically of the Supreme court has been made as independent and impartial as human nature could devise This action was taken with the sole purpose of protecting the freedom of the individual of guarding his earnings his home, his life

Makes Strong Defense

It is frequently charged that this tribunal is tyrannical If the constitution of the United States be tyranny, if the rule that no one shall be convicted of crime save by a jury of his peers that no orders of nobility shall be granted that slavery shall not be permitted to exist in any state or territory that no one shall be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law if these and many other provisions made by the people be tyranny, then the Supreme court, when it makes decisions in accordance with these principles of our fundamental law is tyrannical Otherwise it is exercising the power of government for the preservation of liberty The fact is that the constitution is the source of our freedom

Maintaining it interpreting it and declaring it are the only methods by which the constitution can be preserved and our liberties guaranteed

Explains His Views

Somewhere must be lodged the power to declare the constitution If it be taken away from the court it must go either to the executive or the legislative branches of the government No one so far as I know has thought it should go to the executive All those who advocate changes propose I believe that it should be transferred in whole or in part to the congress I have a very high regard for legislative assemblies We have put a very great emphasis upon representative government It is the only method by which due deliberation can be secured That is a great safeguard of liberty But the legislature is not judicial Along with what are admitted to be the merits of the question also what is supposed to be the popular demand and the greatest partisan advantage weighs very heavily in making legislative decisions It is well known that when the house of representatives sits as a judicial body to determine contested elections it has a tendency to decide in a partisan way It is to be remembered also that under recent political practices there is a strong tendency for legislators to be very much influenced by the executive Whether we like this practice or not there is no use denying that it exists With a dominant executive and a subservient legislature the opportunity would be very inviting to aggrandizement and very dangerous to liberty That way leads toward imperialism

Purpose Not Understood

Some people do not seem to understand fully the purpose of our constitutional restraints They are not for protecting the majority either in or out of congress They can protect themselves with their votes We have adopted a written constitution in order that the minority even down to the most insignificant individual might have their rights protected So long as our constitution remains in force no majority no matter how large can deprive the individual of the right of life liberty or property or prohibit the free exercise of religion or the freedom of speech or of the press If the authority now vested in the Supreme court were transferred to the congress any majority no matter what their motive could vote away any of their most precious rights Majorities are notoriously irresponsible After irreparable damage has been done the only remedy that the people would have would be the privilege of trying to defeat such a majority at the next election Every minority body that may be weak in resources or unpopular in the public estimation also nearly every race and religious belief would find them selves particularly without protection if the authority of the Supreme court should be broken down and its powers lodged with the congress

Applies Also To States

The same reasoning that applies to the individual person applies to the individual state A very broad twilight zone exists in which it is difficult to distinguish where state rights ends and federal right begins Deprived of the privilege of its day in court each state would be compelled to submit to the actions of the congress or resort to resistance by force On the other hand the legislatures of states and sometimes the people through the initiative and referendum may pass laws which are very injurious to the minority residents of that state by attempting to take away the privileges which they hold under the federal constitution Except for the courts such a minority would have no remedy for wrong done them Their ultimate refuge is the Supreme court of the United States

When they made their landing due to fog in Casco bay Friday they had covered 21,[illegible] miles of their world tour and had a 120 mile jump to Boston before them Out of Seattle—the official starting point of the flight five months to a day they have had forty five flying days and 2[illegible] hours and [illegible] minutes in the air

The course of the fliers from here lay past Ill[illegible] Point on the southwest side of Mere Point over Sisters island and southeast across Casco bay [illegible] any of the 365 islands with which it is dotted there to the open sea and down the coast past Portland and Old Orchard

Whether the world fliers continue the trip to Seattle or end it where they began Clover field Santa Monica Cal will depend upon General Mason Patrick chief of the air service

Lieutenant Smith said that the matter would be discussed with General Patrick upon their arrival in Boston

Escort Planes Ascend

BOSTON AIRPORT Sept 6—The escort squadron took the air to meet the world girdling fliers starting in spearhead formation northeastward at 8 30 a m standard time Twelve planes hopped off

The total attendance for this year was 265,594 as compared with 247,130 last year Monday this year was a poor day for crowds because of rain In spite of this a good sized crowd came but those in charge believe that had Monday been a good day the record for total attendance would have been broken

The fair was undoubtedly a big success financially although the tabulation of figures was not announced Friday night The workers in the treasurers office were swamped paying out money to winners and to the 900 employes of the fair

Auto Races Popular.

The auto races Friday afternoon drew a big crowd When the people went into the stands the concession stands and the Midway tents were all still up When the crowd came out again a few barkers were ballyhooing their shows and there were a few stands still open but most of the tents had been taken down The fair had closed in fact The doors of the exhibit halls were closed about this time

Now comes the work of cleaning up loose ends Some of the members of the board and many of the employes will remain at the grounds for some weeks to come to check up and get things down to a system again

Everything has to be done in a hurry when the fair is on and now everything must be checked up to see that no mistakes were made

The transporting of the days receipts from the grounds to town required all the care of a big exchange of money between banks County Sheriff Claude Hensel and State Sheriff Tom Carroll, with their big cars loaded with men armed with sawed-off shotguns brought the money in Armed guards have been posted about the treasurers office all week

Entries have been larger this year than usual Chief among the exhibits which have been enlarged is the boys and girls exhibits The clubs for these young people have exhibited everything from knots tied in ropes to fat steers

Poultry cattle and horse exhibits have been bigger this year than before The dog show was an innovation that proved to be so popular that it will undoubtedly be continued

All that now remains is to finish up the work for this fair and then begin getting ready for the next one

Deserting the Grounds

The fair grounds Saturday morning was a scene of apparent confusion Men were busily hauling away tents and boxes and closing up the stands Exhibitors were leading their livestock to the railroad cars standing at the fair grounds siding

The grounds were covered with paper tossed there by careless visitors and concession men It will be a job taking several weeks before this is cleaned up

The fair board was meeting and discussing the fair informally and going over a few complaints The staff in the treasurers office was still at work checking up on the receipts This work would not be finished until late in the day it was said

Some livestock was still in the exhibition buildings Most of the exhibitors are now on their way to other fairs county or state and the amusement men are away to play other stands

LINCOLN TEACHERS IN FIRST MEETING

The general meeting for all faculty members of the Lincoln public school was held at the high school building at 10 o'clock Saturday morning Mrs Hazel B Kohivec assistant supervisor of music led the audience in singing and H O Ferguson sang a group of songs Miss Margaret Malowney gave several piano numbers

M C Lefler superintendent of schools introduced Miss Annie M T Cogil president of the Principals club Miss Anna Vore president of the Lincoln Teachers association and Miss Harriett Towne president of the supervisors forum to the teachers Each one gave brief greetings to the new and returned teachers

Speaking extemporaneously Mr Lefler emphasized four points on which stress will be laid this year The first the question of fitness of physical or emotional including poise and control is to be encouraged in the faculty Contemporary with this will be attention to self education not merely remedial but progressive and beneficial

The second point mentioned was the correct idea of the use of a working day Mr Lefler explained that each teacher will be expected to give a full working day but she will be encouraged to learn to conserve her strength and energy so that she can give the best of herself in that working day The superintendent will discourage long service after school in order to make this point effective At the same time the faculty will be asked to recognize a working day for the pupils also and not to appoint so much work for them that their hours extend beyond a normal working day Mr Lefler discouraged keeping pupils long hours after school when they are tired for disciplinary purposes

During the next year Mr Lefler will urge the teachers to give constant thought to civic responsibility He wants them to bring to the minds of the pupils respect and observance for and of the law He suggested that the teachers should fulfill all qualifications necessary to exercise their right of franchise

For his fourth point Mr Lefler made a plea for the maintenance of spiritual qualities among the teachers Among the many that might come under this head he asked them to observe kindness tolerance honesty industry and self respect

Staff Numbers 460

Mr Lefler said that the entire teaching force including full and part time teachers this year is 460 Of these 415 were on the faculty last year and 45 are newcomers This turnover amounting to about 10 per cent is very low he said and gratifying as the average generally is 30 per cent Three teachers are on leave of absence for study and one for health reasons

Lincoln is one of the finest education cities in the country Mr Lefler stated Being the seat of the state university it has added advantages and the public schools share in these educational opportunities offered by the university and by the surrounding colleges The result is he said that a large percentage of people are interested in more than an ordinary way in education in Lincoln

the auditorium which speakers have declared good at previous times a group of amplifiers—the same ones which carried the voice of Governor Bryan across the University of Nebraska Memorial stadium during his notification address and the speech of Charles G Dawes republican vice presidential nominee in the same setting last month—will aid the speaker Additional amplifiers have been set outside the auditorium to carry the speaker's voice to those who may not be able to gain admission to the spacious hall While it has seating arrangements for 4,000 the committee in charge headed by Democratic National Committeeman Arthur F Mullen believe that an additional thousand or more may be crowded into standing room

Arrangements to radiocast the address of Mr Davis were completed last night when a test of the apparatus was pronounced successful Stations WOAW of Omaha and KFKX at Hastings Neb were cut into the auditorium A long distance wire will relay the address to Hastings where the Westinghouse Electric station will radiocast it The city auditorium is a block long and a half block wide and has much window and door space With this in mind the amplifiers have been so arranged that any crowd may be served the speaker's voice

Uncle Sam Swoops Down On Firpo On Eve of Fight With Wills

WARRANT OUT FOR ARGENTINE HUSKY

Washington Issues Order To Place Luis Angel Firpo Under Arrest.

Fighter In Toils For Effort To Bring Fair Senorita Into U. S. A.

NO INTERFERENCE WITH FIGHT

NEW YORK, Sept 6 — Hyman Bushel, attorney for Luis Angel Firpo, upon learning that a warrant had been issued for the fighter's arrest, said that he and his client would go to the Ellis Island immigration office this afternoon Firpo, his attorney said, will give bond and demand a formal trial on the charges—an arrangement which if ordinary procedure is followed will preclude interference with his plan to fight Harry Wills next Thursday in Jersey City

Firpo was released on $10 000 bonds to appear September 15 after his scheduled meeting with Harry Wills after a warrant had been served on him today by Immigration Commissioner Curran

WASHINGTON Sept 6 A warrant for the arrest of Luis Angel Firpo Argentine prize fighter whose deportation is being sought on the grounds that the immigration law was violated by his entry into the United States in July was telegraphed today to Immigration Commissioner Curran at New York by the department of labor

LUIS ANGEL FIRPO

The warrant was signed by Robe Carl White the acting secretary of labor

Firpo was charged on the warrant with bringing or attempting to bring a woman into the United States for immoral purposes

The charge refers to the fact that Senorita Blanca Lourdes an Argentine woman was on the same ship that brought Firpo from New York from Buenos Aires

Firpo was also charged with making false and misleading statements to secure his entry to this country

It is understood here that Firpo will surrender voluntarily to the immigration authorities at Ellis Island His bond will be fixed at $1 000

Jersey Pastor Protests

JERSEY CITY N J Sept 6—Further opposition to the Firpo Wills fight next Thursday night was contained today in a statement issued by Rev Frank S Ritter secretary of the Society of New Jersey for Protection of Morals and Prevention of Crime He said a written protest the fight would be filed with the authorities by five reform organizations acting jointly

The protest he said would call upon the officials to prevent the fight upon the grounds that it would be a brutalizing exhibition detrimental to the community and contrary to the laws

Claim Fight Will Proceed

NEW YORK Sept 6 Arrest of Luis Firpo Argentine heavyweight now in this country preparing for a bout on Sept 11 with Harry Wills on charges of having committed perjury in a hearing before Immigration Commissioner H H Curran would not interfere with the bout Hyman Bushel attorney for Firpo declared today

A warrant for the fighter was asked in a telegram sent by Curran to the labor department at Washington following the opening of the hearing in which Firpo was charged by Rev William Sheafe Chase of Brooklyn with having misstated the fact when he declared his acquaintance with Senorita Blanca Lourdes a passenger on the boat was only casual

Polo Match Goes Over to Tuesday

SAINTS AND LINKS IN SUNDAY DOUBLEHEADER

The Saints from St Joseph and Manager Josh Clarke's Links are carded to perform in a double header Sunday afternoon at Lands Field first game at 2 o'clock Saints are indebted to the Links to the extent of one postponed game, so a twin bill Sunday will be necessary in balancing the books

Manager Josh probably will take his pick of Beck Lewis and Cooper in nominating the two local twirlers, while Davenport Ross or Haid may do the flinging for the Saints

The league schedule calls for three games in as many days when the Oklahoma City Indians come to Lincoln Monday but only two will be played One Lincoln Oklahoma City game was advanced and played off as part of a Sunday doubleheader on the Indians last visit to the local camp As a result and on Magnate Jack Holland's request the combat booked for Wednesday September 8 has been cancelled—an arrangement which gives both clubs a compulsory vacation that day

Rass' Defies Cracked Rib

Art Rasmussen on the slab for the Links Friday hurled nine innings of sparkling baseball despite the handicap of a cracked rib Rasmussen's injury was sustained during the recent Links Bears series in Denver The Links veteran flinger was subbing at the first sack where he was in collision with Johnny Gorman Denver's third sacker After pitching the three final innings of last Tuesday's game in which the Links copped a win over the Des Moines Boosters in ten innings Rasmussen was in so much pain that he consulted a physician whose examination disclosed that one of the pitcher's ribs was cracked Given a two days layoff Rasmussen returned to mound duty Friday pitching the full nine inning route although in pain during virtually every pitch

Oilers Tackle Burch Rods

Western league fur will be flying in Omaha today The Tulsa Oilers five games back of the first place Denver Bears but still contenders for the 1924 bunting will invade the Nebraska metropolis for a two game series with the Burch Rods Unless the Oilers can get at least an even break of the two games Tulsa's ambitions will suffer a severe jolt while a double defeat would all but knock the Rods off the second rung of the ladder Dope if worth anything at all points to an even split of the spoils

Meanwhile the Bears perched at the peak of the percentage pile by virtue of trapping the Rods in three of four games this week should have easier sailing while entertaining the Oklahoma City Indians Jack Holland's pitchers suddenly came to life in the recent series with Tulsa and the Indians dragged down three of the four battles That they have the goods to deliver in similar fashion against the Grizzlies is doubtful In previous trips to Denver the Indians flingers have been setups for Bruin sluggers Holland has attributed the ineffectiveness of his hurlers when performing in Denver to the high altitude The thinner air he asserts robs a curve ball pitcher of most of his stuff

Giants Gain On Dodgers

The New York Giants today maintain their league lead in the tri cornered battle for the first honors in the National league by a double victory over the Rapless Phillies 6 to 5 and 15 to 3

Brooklyn with the pennant in sight stretched its winning spurt into fourteen straight games by defeating Boston but saw the Giants lead increase from 3 to 6 points

Continuing their sensational play of the last two weeks the Robins defeated Boston 4 to 0 Rube Ehrhardt Manager Robinsons discovery hung up his fourth straight victory

Cincinnati fighting for the berth in the first division conquered the Cubs 3 to 1

Pittsburgh had to stand by helplessly because of rain while the Giants and Robins were increasing over the Pirates at the expense of weaker teams

The Tigers made a determined bid in the American league to close the gap between them and the Senators and Yankees by trimming the Indians twice Detroit won the first contest 7 to 3 and the second 20 to 1

Cvengros effective pitching aided the White Sox in defeating St Louis 4 to 1

Washington still holds a two game advantage over New York neither team being scheduled to play yesterday

Boosters Easy In Final Game Of Fair Week Series At Landis Field.

Home Athletes Slugged Ball For 13 Hits; Win By 13 to 4 Score.

WESTERN LEAGUE WEATHER

St Joseph at Lincoln cloudy
Wichita at Des Moines, threatening
Oklahoma City at Denver, clear
Tulsa at Omaha, cloudy

BY "CY" SHERMAN

Taking picks on Pitcher Jim House on the mound for the Des Moines Boosters and playing the fielding end of the pastime in stunning style the Links broke away from their losing streak Friday afternoon and trimmed the Corriden clan 13 to 4

Art Rassmussen had the Boosters locoed in every inning with the exception of the first and eighth The Lincoln defensive reeled off three double plays and the result was safely removed from the doubtful column after an early assault on House which accounted for seven markers in the two opening frames

The Boosters warmed Rassmussen's jacket for two runs in the first round Flashkamper singled over third but Corriden hit into a double killing—Snyder to Lazzeri to Dye O Connor had a safe blow in his bat and Ping Bodie followed with a smash to right center for two bases Stuvengen's line punch down the left field line put both runners over the plate

Rass Clamped On the Brakes

After the threatening start Rassmussen clamped the brakes on the Boosters hitting hurling shutout ball all the way to the eighth when Bodie poled his third homer of the series O Connor was on base by virtue of a single and the visitors final brace of runs floated over the home dish

That House was in for a stiff lacing was apparent in the introductory inning Purdy singled Snyder doubled and Skinner followed with another two-baser Purdy and Snyder crossing the plate Three free passes Hamilton's wild heave to first in handling Rasmussen's bunt Purdy's single and Lazzeri's cleanup triple netted the Links five markers in the second and planted the ball game on the ice Subsequent stickwork by the Links with House's generosity in issuing free transportation boosted the home club's run total to thirteen

Links Larrup the Leather.

The home gang made merry with the hickory Pid Purdy clubbed four safeties in five trips to the plate Snyder slapped two in three Lazzeri two in four and Skinner two in three Ping Bodie and Dick O Connor were the only Boosters giving Rassmussen any trouble Ping smacked his customary homer and in addition hit a double and a single in three times at bat O Connor's contribution comprised two singles

The Links disported with genuine brilliance in the field Purdy and Moore each perpetrated a spectacular catch in the garden while the infielders were breezing along in dazzling style Bob Snyder's one bungle was inconsequential detracting nothing from the general excellence of his performance Tony Lazzeri assimilated eleven chances at the second sack Chavvy Chavez handled nine at short and Scott Dye was displaying sterling stuff in the region of the initial station The official record

THE ? BOX

Q Runner at first starts to second on a steal Catcher overthrows second and runner tries for third Center fielder comes in fast and throws to third for an out on runner Should the catcher be charged with an error? Does the runner receive credit for a stolen base?—LINCOLNIAN

A Runner gets credit for stolen base Spare the catcher an error as the runner did not advance beyond second and credit the center fielder with an assist Catcher's failure to throw out runner at second is not an [illegible] advances an extra base on catcher's overthrow then catcher gets an error

Q Did I understand the Question Box correctly when it was published recently that there were no rules covering the matter of crediting victories or charging defeats to pitchers? If there are no rules how are such matters decided?—G R Grand Island Neb

A You understood correctly The only actual rules in baseball are those set forth in the official guide These rules govern the playing and scoring of baseball but the guide is silent on the subject of crediting victories and charging defeats to pitchers Certain customs have been established by league statisticians some of which are not in line with baseball logic but they survive because custom is custom and therefore hard to buck

How It's Done In the Majors

By Frank Frisch
Captain New York Giants

Who backs up wild throws from the catcher to second base?

There should be some one backing up every play made in baseball When the catcher throws to second if the second baseman is taking the throw the shortstop can fall in behind second and knock down the overthrow in order to prevent the runner going to third If the short stop takes the throw the second baseman should back up The center fielder should always start in on every throw to second base The outfielder who does these little things in the game helps his club a great deal But many of them neglect these little points They all factor in the long run in winning or losing games

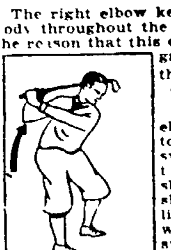
INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON

The right elbow keeps close to the body throughout the back swing for the reason that this elbow has a very great influence on the flight of the ball.



SHOWING RIGHT ELBOW TOO HIGH AT TOP OF SWING ·

When the right elbow is up, at the top of the back swing as pictured in the sketch a badly sliced ball will likely be the reward for the swing if the ball is solidly hit at all This comes about because when the club is started down the arm immediately takes possession and instead of then coming under as it should it flies out away from the body as in an overhand throw with a stone or a baseball This in turn causes the clubhead to be dragged across the ball and the slice results The clubhead must be shot straight through the ball

'ROBBIE' IN ROLL OF MIRACLE MAN

Dodger Pilot Grabs Gang Of Discards and Leads His Club to Heights.

Series With Giants Starting Sunday Likely to Decide National Race.

BY DAVIS J WALSH

NEW YORK Sept 6—Wilbert Robinson the philosopher who makes mountains grow where molehills failed and an occasional ball club out of the Brooklyn Dodgers seems to have dealt himself a full hand from the discards while the writer was frolicking among the icebergs just a bit to the north

Your Uncle Robbie's ball club it seems has stepped out of character to the extent of reeling off fourteen straight victories and is doing its earnest best to run the Giants off the reservation

The Dodgers chances of so doing are better than ever in view of the fact that Dodgers and Giants are due to mingle starting tomorrow and it is a local tradition that all else being equal Robbie can beat McGraw at anything from pants legs to pinochle Yet the Dodgers seem to have very little—except Robbie himself His is the hand that makes bricks without straw and ball players without inertia

Fournier and Stock

There is for example Jack Fournier He was to have been wafted out of the majors altogether via the Yankees but Robbie needed a first baseman and appear to have got one, speaking in a curious sense Another exhibit is Milton Stock who, like Fournier had outlasted his welcome in St Louis We have it on the best authority that both will be permitted to remain in Brooklyn for the time being

Dazzy Vance winner of twenty five games this season is hailed as the greatest right hander in baseball today yet the Yanks had him twice and weren't particularly pleased about it at that

Mitchell Also Ex Yank

Johnny Mitchell another former Yank is a recent acquisition who is alleged to have brought the winning streak with him John was a flop with the Yankees and Red Sox being sent away by the latter in lieu of Dudle Lee He has played fine ball with the Dodgers

The centerfielder Ed Brown was up several times with the Giants but it was alleged that he couldn't throw hard enough to break a pane of glass Apparently people in glass houses don't live in Brooklyn Tommy Griffith is a relic of the old Cincinnati days before the regime of Pat Moran He is a good outfielder no more no less Dutch Ruether also escaped from Cincinnati where his theory of training failed to find popular favor Dutch has been a very good boy here during recent seasons

Yes Grimes Will Do

Burleigh Grimes came to Robbie from the Pirates and immediately began to simulate the actions of a first-class spitballer The suspicion is beginning to gain ground that perhaps after all Grimes is just what he pretended to be

Wheat and High are Robinson products but the latter was so little esteemed at the start of the season that Stock was brought on from St Louis Wheat of course was a bell ringer from the outset

There one has the whole truth and nothing but Your Uncle Robbie could work a Rodin masterpiece with a lipstick and a handful of putty
